ProDesk Catalogue 2008

General Information

Materials & Finishes

The 'ProDesk' is a modular construction Media Workstation System suitable for many applications such as Non-Linear Edit Suites, Graphics Suites, Audio Post production Suites etc.

'ProDesk' layouts are shipped as 'Flat-Pack' units, with some parts pre-fitted. Assembly is simple, requiring no special tools or skills.

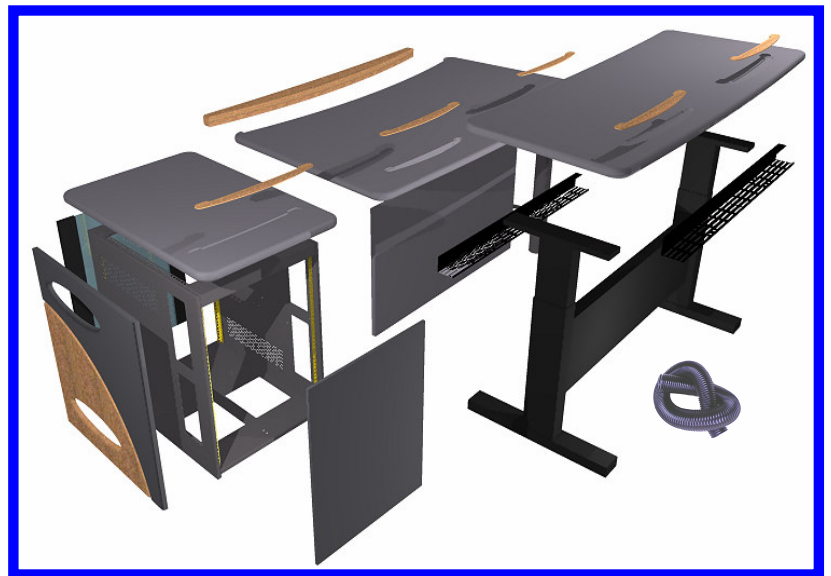

Materials used are of the highest quality with solid wood front trims and real wood veneers on cable entry covers and optional base side trims. Standard wood materials available from stock are Oak and Beech. Panel work is fire resistant MDF finished in Dark Anthracite Nextel.

Originally developed for NASA for the interior finish on the Space Shuttle cockpit control panel surfaces. Nextel is a very hardwearing, non toxic, finish with an attractive 'soft effect' look and feel with excellent anti-static and anti-glare properties.

Construction

ProDesk layouts are built up from a number of standard modules and components, which can be assembled together in various combinations to give a large number of possible layouts. The most popular of these are illustrated in this catalogue with a single part code for easy ordering, but many others are possible, including completely customised layouts with special panel layouts.

We have developed their own unique design visualisation and costing software, Avsys3D, which enables us to quickly provide customers with realistic views of proposed installation layouts and budget costings at an early stage in the planning process. This service is free of charge whether or not an order is placed and many customers have found this service invaluable when trying to work up a final design for their project.

ProDesk Catalogue 2008 - NEXTEL

GENERAL INFORMATION

Nextel Colour Finishes

ELDECO has chosen to use NEXTEL Colour finishes on a number of their technical furniture products. NEXTEL provides an unusual and attractive high quality finish which is also extremely hardwearing and has been particularly chosen by ELDECO because of its special qualities. Like any surface however, it needs to be treated in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations in order to get the best results and to maximise its durability. The enclosed information should be referred to when installing NEXTEL finished products and the recommended procedures for maintenance and repair followed.

NEXTEL was originally developed by 3M Company in the USA following a request from NASA for a special coating for use on interior surfaces in the Space Shuttle.

The criteria were that this coating had to :

1. Have excellent Anti-Static properties
2. Be Chemically Inert
3. Be fire resistant
4. Be totally non reflective and absorb scattered light
5. Be hard wearing and scratch resistant
6. be easy to clean
7. be warm to the touch

These features give our Technical Furniture products a special Style and quality that will enhance any working environment

ProDesk Catalogue 2008 - FREE FORM

The 'Free Form' version of the ELDECO 'Pro-Desk' technical furniture system is designed to offer users a small range of high style 'off the shelf' layouts that stand out from the crowd. Fully compatible in basic structure with the 'Pro-Desk Classic' range Free Form layouts can be used in areas where client presentation considerations are especially important.

Despite the cosmetic styling Free Form Pro-Desks are ergonomically efficient and technically practical. Monitor shelf units are height adjustable and base rack units have 14RU of 19" Rack mount space. Cable management is provided using tubular 'flexi-ducting' between the main desk and monitor stand, with metal cable tray mounted under the desk surface for interconnection of base units or desk top equipment. A full range of accessories such as shelves, equipment mounting kits etc is also available.

'Free-Form' components are kept in stock for quick delivery in the combination finishes shown in this catalogue, alternatively 'Free Form' units can be matched, at minimum cost, to a specific décor by changing the base unit trim inserts and centre desk panel materials and/or colours, although extra time has to be allowed for manufacture of the necessary parts.

We often make PRODESKS to special order like on the photographs below.
